

Helping children overcome the effects of sexual abuse

I feel free from it now

I'm happier now and I don't have nightmares

Please can I keep coming here, you listen to me

Thank you so much, you have really helped me

Thank you for helping me learn things and move forward in life!

Thank you for making the bad things go away

Child sexual abuse is happening every minute of every hour of every day and it's a subject that's very rarely discussed at all... but we're trying to change that. The words in the bubbles come from real children that Fresh Start - new beginnings have helped with advice, support and therapy... we've helped give them a safe place to talk - and we'll listen for as long as they need us.
